Darren Radford

Enterprise Agility with SAFe©

There's a new buzzword in the boardroom: "Agile". It originally comes from software development, but now CEOs are using it as a new way to lead the whole enterprise. You've heard the rhetoric, some of the terms, and likely seen some mis-applications! So how is it done/proven to work?

- Why? – do we need to be aware of this? Hint: It's the new buzzword for a reason!
- What? – Precisely is Enterprise or Business Agility?
- How? – can we adopt / leverage it to win?
- Experience it – what does it look and feel like?
- Call to Action – How does it affect me / my role and key takeaways.

Darren Radford, Managing Director of Aspire.
